Fourth War Loan Drive Launched at Enthusiastic Workers' Rally

CALLS ON ALL FAMILIES SET FOR CAMPAIGN

By "Flying Tiger" Veteran Included in Program at Opening Meeting.

By ROB BYRD

The drive gave its Fourth War Loan campaign an auspicious start last night at a gathering of 400 workers and their families in Epworth Methodist church, with leaders calling on them to repeat its performance of the last campaign in which Marion was the first Ohio town to reach its goal.

The drive is going over so well that it is possible to begin at once on the campaign plan that calls for a family to be in the campaign, plan that calls for a family to be in the campaign, plan that calls for a family to be in the campaign.

FORGIVEN NOW, 2nd Lt. Jack Watson (above), of Indianapolis, Ind., piloted his Flying Fortress back alone from an attack over Ochsersleben, Germany, to a base in England. He ordered crew to bail out when plane caught fire. Watson is the pilot who "buzzed" over the Yankee Stadium during World Series last fall and was roundly rebuked by Mayor LaGuardia of New York, who now forgives him since the above incident. 3 UNIONS TO CANCEL STRIKE

Rail Groups Expected to Notify War Department of Action Today.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—Three railroad operating brotherhoods probably will give the war department formal notice today of complete cancellation of their strike, removing at least one barrier to restoration of the roads to private control.

The unions reached an agreement with the Class 1 railroads yesterday, providing an overall wage increase of 6 cents an hour and a week's vacation, but agreements with 43 short line railroads remained to be signed. The brotherhood chiefs expected no difficulty about this but deemed it procedurally feasible to withhold official notice to the Army until the short lines signed up.

The wage dispute involving the 15 nonoperating unions, and more than a million clerical, mechanical and laboring employees, remained unsettled as a special presidential board continued hearings on claims for overtime benefits.

Army Plans Not Revealed

The Army may decide to retain nominal control of the railroads until the nonoperating dispute is settled, although General Brotherton, B. Somervell, has cited only the operating case as the bar to termination of its custody. He said at least two of the three brotherhoods—firemen, conductors, and switchmen—had not cancelled their strike but merely postponed it for the duration of government operation. The brotherhood chiefs asserted a strike voted by the rank and file remained a live issue while the dispute which provoked it remained unsettled.

Actually, the nonoperating union chiefs could set another strike date, although this is considered unlikely. When they called off their Dec. 30 strike they said:

Grand Prairie township's first 13-year-old boy, Robert L. Hartzell, a former member of the Flying Tigers, and a 24-year-old veteran of more than 15 missions over enemy lines and one of the pilots who flew the Double Tokyo raiders to safety after their parachute landings in Japan-occupied portions of China. He declared he "and any other man in service who has had contact with the enemy" simply can't comprehend the complacency of such persons back home. How can they be at ease while American boys are at stake in the most bitter battle in the history of the world? He said at the pitiful lack of weapons in the early days of the war when the Flying Tigers were first sent to China.

Youthful Slayer of Boy, 6, Goes To Death in Electric Chair with a Prayer on His Lips

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 13.—Louis Vernon Hand, 17-year-old hammer slayer who awaited execution with the boast that he could "take it," died in the electric chair last night with a prayer on his lips.

Hand, electrocuted for the slaying of six-year-old Richard Stober on a Mercer county farm last July 3, never stopped praying from the moment he entered the Ohio Penitentiary death chamber shortly before 8 p. m. until the first lethal shock was sent through his body at 8:01. He was pronounced dead eight minutes later.

One of the youngest persons ever to be executed in Ohio, Hand followed Rev. Fr. Louis P. Kelly, Catholic chaplain at the prison, into the death house, keeping his eyes on the crucifix the priest held in front of him.

He was led to the electric chair by guards who quickly adjusted the arm and leg straps and the black death mask. He was pronounced dead by Dr. E. Stanley Anderson and Dr. John B. Eckstrom, prison physicians.

Retreating Germans Driven Hard by Reds

Russians Sweep Past Sarny To Approach Big Communications Center of Kovel in Old Poland.

By The Associated Press

MOSCOW, Jan. 13.—Russian troops pursuing a badly-disorganized German army over a large sector west of the Horyn river beyond Sarny have driven within 70 miles of the big communications base of Kovel (in old Poland), front dispatches declared today.

To the north, a White Russian army offensive battering into the Pripiet marshes toward Pinsk 115 miles away has smashed the backbone of Nazi defenses. Red Star asserted, and Gen. Konstantin Rokossovsky's troops are pouring through the broken enemy line.

The army newspaper said the German high command vainly had ordered a line held between the Sluch and Horyn rivers, but Gen. Nikolai Vatutin's Ukrainian forces battered through and the Germans probably will attempt another stand in the Sty river running 25 to 35 miles west of the Horyn, or between the Sty and Stochod rivers, only 20 miles east of Kovel.

Moscow radio said the Nazis did not even have time to blow up or mine bridges.

Soviet units that seized Stepan 18 miles southeast of Sarny were driving down behind Rovno, 35 miles south, which was reported becoming badly outflanked.

Drive Into Marshes

Rokossovsky's five-day-old offensive hammered into the Pripiet marshes on a 30-mile front beyond fallen Mozyr and Kalinkovichi after breaking one of the strongest lines the enemy has yet established.

In one seven-mile sector the Germans had built in depth defenses of four trenches, 27 artillery points, 37 heavy machine-gun nests, and many mortars and mines.

Red Star said Soviet troops had crossed the Ippa river 13 miles west of Kalinkovichi, and ski troops and cavalry raided German rear areas. Swift cavalry strokes through the swamps surprised Nazi garrisons, it added.

Moscow radio said the Germans appeared bewildered by the stunning Red army blows in the Pripiet area.

The Russians already had reached Skerzhalow, 20 miles beyond Mozyr and 115 miles from Pinsk, the industrial river city.

Nazis Lose Heavily

"Tremendous losses" were inflicted on the fleeing Germans, the Russian communiqué said, as Rokossovsky's Cossacks, ski-shod veterans and light mobile units plunged through the marshes, regarded as one of the most formidable natural defense obstacles in the Soviet Union. More than 10 small towns and villages, including the rail station of Kozur, 16 miles west of Kalinkovichi, were liberated in the fourth day of Rokossovsky's advance, the bulletin added, and 3,000 Nazis were killed.

South of the marshes, Gen. Nikolai Vatutin's first Ukrainian army broadened its front along the Kiev-Warsaw trunk railway and crossed the Horyn river, 10 miles west of Sarny.

The twin offensives of Vatutin and Rokossovsky were rolling westward approximately 60 miles apart along the only two rail routes serving east-west traffic through the Pripiet marshes.

Vatutin's drive south of Sarny directed to cutlink from the west the important junction of Rovno on the Kiev-Warsaw railway.

Gas Emergency Period Ended

The Ohio Fuel Gas Co. announced today that the gas emergency period ended.

This was the signal for residents of Marion and most other Ohio communities to turn on again gas water heaters and raise the temperature of gas-heated homes back to normal levels.

However, company officials emphasized that the gas supply situation is still serious, and they asked cooperation of the public in conserving the supply of gas in every way possible, even though the critical period has ended.

The situation is likely to become more serious as the winter progresses, officials said. This week's cold snap was largely responsible for the emergency, but milder temperatures than those of this week are certain to bring additional emergency periods, they said, adding that 20 degrees this month, 25 next month and 35 in March might be cold enough to demand additional emergency periods, if vital war plants are to be assured their gas requirements.

To help conserve the supply, officials asked the public for the following day-to-day gas conservation practices:

Make 65 degrees your accepted wartime living temperature.

Don't use ovens, radiant heaters or other heaters to supplement coal or oil heating plants.

Be conservative in your use of hot water, avoid washing hands or dishes in running hot water.

Combine as much cooking as possible to conserve fuel; use oven to prepare several hot dishes instead of separate top burners.

Officials today praised the cooperation of the public in the emergency period just ending.

TOLEDOAN IN RACE FOR OHIO GOVERNOR

By The Associated Press

TOLEDO, O., Jan. 13.—Declaring himself in favor of a fourth term for President Roosevelt, Frazier Reams, former internal revenue collector here, today announced his candidacy for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

Thus, on his 47th birthday, Reams became the fourth to enter the Democratic race for governor. The others are former state Treasurer Clarence H. Knisley, former state Sen. Walter Baertschi of Toledo, and Columbus Frank A. Dye of Columbus.

The name of Martin Coffey of Middletown, a former Ohio commander of the American Legion, entered the Democratic gubernatorial discussions for the first time yesterday when State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson announced at Columbus that he had been conferring with Coffey and other party leaders. Ferguson said a "large and influential number of Democrats favor Coffey as a candidate." Coffey did not comment.

Reams resigned his federal position Jan. 6.

In his formal declaration Reams criticized the $75,000,000 treasury surplus built up by Gov. Bricker and promised if elected to give

Pending the announcement of dates and collection arrangements, Mr. Aiber asked Marion residents to save paper and to be ready to turn it in to the collection campaign.

FRENCH TROOPS CHECK NAZI BLOWS IN ITALY

Five Counterattacks Beaten Off in Fierce Fighting with Fifth Army.

By The Associated Press

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, ALGIERS, Jan. 13.—French troops, staving off five German counterattacks in fierce fighting on the right wing of the Fifth army front in Italy, have pushed forward two more miles toward Cassino, it was announced today, capturing the village of Acquafredda and three important heights in its vicinity.

Pressure by the French forces under Gen. Alphonse Juin was applied over a considerable length along their mountain line north-west of Cassino and greatly strengthened the Americans driving toward that stronghold 70 miles from Rome.

The French advance put the allies in a commanding position on heights entirely surrounding the village of Viticosa, now apparently in allied control.

Report Evacuation

(The Berlin radio announced yesterday the Germans had evacuated Acquafredda, approximately seven miles northeast of Cassino.)

All the heights taken by the French were over 3,000 feet.

Mt. Ferro, the most advanced of the three, is two miles north-west of Acquafredda and directly overlooking the village of Vallorotonda, about six miles north and slightly east of Cassino.

They also took Mt. Paganò, two miles southwest of Acquafredda, and Mt. Pile, two miles north-west of Viticosa.

The fiercest German counterblow was made some five miles north of Acquafredda along the San Pietro ridge.

American forces south and west of Cassino have plowed into strong enemy fortifications of Mt. Trocchio, the big rocky barrier on the road to Cassino, and are engaged in hard fighting.

Artillery Active

British artillery was active on both the Fifth and Eighth army fronts.

(The German communiqué today admitted a Nazi withdrawal after heavy battles in the Cervaro sector. Cervaro, four miles from Cassino, was captured by the Americans Wednesday.)

Allied bombers struck heavy blows at German bases on the Yugoslav coast.

They made a concentrated attack on the airfield at Mostar, dropping large quantities of high explosive and fragmentation bombs. Other bombers attacked shipping in the Adriatic near Sibenik.

Four hits were scored on a 5,000-ton merchantman, which was left in flames, and three hits severely damaged smaller cargo ships. A motor vessel was set afire, another damaged, and a barge and two harbor craft were struck, one exploding.

GALLON CAGE COACH DISMISSES STONER

Youth in Grid Dispute Now Off Basketball Squad.

Bill Stoner, 17-year-old Gallon high school senior whose $25,000 suit against Football Coach Jim Lynper is pending in Crawford county common pleas court, was dismissed from the basketball squad last night by Coach Herb Shaffer. The Associated Press reported today.

Reached at Gallon today by The Star, Shaffer said he acted "for the good of the team," only after squad morale had dropped to a low level and a half-heard Gallon team was taking heavy setbacks from teams it should have defeated.

He said Stoner and one other squad member, Earl Dye, were dropped because of their reaction to coaching policies and the attitude of teammates.

The boys, both seniors, had been regularly in the starting lineup, and were repaid in last night's game with Marion by a

Marion Entered in Six-Team Ohio State Baseball League

Decision To Place City in Revived Circuit Made at Meeting with Promoters.

Professional baseball played by a Class D Ohio State League team will return to Marion this summer after an absence of seven years.

This decision was reached unanimously at a meeting at Hotel Harding yesterday of some 20 local men, interested in promotion of Marion's sports program through a minor league club.

No organization for the team, which rounds out the revived Ohio loop with six representatives, was set up at yesterday's meeting. Instead, a temporary committee to study the situation confronting the formation of a pro team here was chosen with Wilson Tway, president of Wilson Bohannon Co. as chairman.

A second meeting of the committee is scheduled for early next week at Hotel Harding. It is presumed that the club will then be organized and an agreement with a major league team worked out.

2,000 TONS OF BOMBS SMASH PLANE PLANTS

Pre-Invasion Blow Follows Attack by Americans on Messerschmitt Factory.

By The Associated Press

LONDON, Jan. 13.—The RAF threw its full weight into the pre-invasion campaign to exterminate the German air force, burying the central German city of Brunswick under a heavy load of explosives last night as an after-stroke to the American daylight attack last Tuesday when Fortress and Liberators fought one of the great battles of the war to bomb the Messerschmitt plant.

The heavy RAF bombers dumped 2,000 long tons of bombs upon the plane manufacturing city in what the air ministry termed "a very heavy attack." This and other operations cost 38 aircraft.

Great fires were left burning. As this main force was over Brunswick, Mosquito bombers raided attacked Berlin, and other planes bombed Magdeburg, south-west of Berlin, and targets in northern France.

The German high command asserted today the U. S. air force was "continuously publishing greatly exaggerated figures" on the number of German fighters shot down during the American raids on the Reich.

In a supplement to the German communiqué the Nazis declared that despite American claims to have shot down a total of 394 German fighters in the Schweinfurt raid Oct. 14, the Enkliden attack of Dec. 12, and the Jan. 11 forays against aviation plants in central Germany, only 98 Nazi fighters were in reality lost and "more than one third of the crews" of these were saved.

Day-Long Assault

The overnight blow at Nazi defense fighters followed by only a few hours a day-long assault on military targets in northern France by American Liberators and Flying Fortress, medium Marauders, and allied medium and light bombers, fighter-bombers and squadrons of fighters.

Nine enemy aircraft were destroyed in the daylight raids by the American heavy bombers, and 18 more by their lighter escorts, and by allied medium and light bombers and their escorts. Allied losses in yesterday's daylight operations were 16 planes, three of them heavies.

Yesterday's daylight attacks against the so-called "rocket-gun coast" called into action some 1,500 allied planes. Last night's twin allied planes made the fourth notable air assault against the German within 24 hours.

One hundred Russian bombers yesterday attacked a German Black sea convoy, and RAF planes hit Nazi shipping off Norway, torpedoing two vessels.

Brunswick, a city of 200,000 population 100 miles west of Berlin, was last hit by RAF night raiders Sept. 27. The airplane works and plants turning out artillery, motorcycles, tractors and railway equipment were targets of the powerful Tuesday assault by American bombers which also curbed the heavy craft over Ochsersleben, Halberstadt, Bielefeld and Meppen.

Many Fires Observed

RAF and Canadian fliers said Brunswick, "resembled a city that wasn't blacked out," because of the many fires left raging. Magdeburg, which the Mosquitoes went on to blast last night, is an important chemical and war manufacturing city.

The Berlin correspondent of the Swedish newspaper Aftonbladet said: about 100 Mosquitoes made

USE OF FIREPLACE

To add coal to the fireplace neatly and quickly, place coal in a large paper bag and drop the bag on the fire. The coal falls with no clatter and the bag slowly burns away. If you do not care to waste paper because of the paper salvage campaign, use it only when some one is asleep or ill and must not be disturbed by noise.

Lumber Shortages Critical As Nation's Reserves Dwindle

Lumber shortages are so serious that the War Production board soon may be asking some pointed questions about hoarding if any body runs a sliver in his finger, according to an Associated Press report from Washington.

Harried WPB executives say lumber products constitute our most critical raw materials problems. The war program got by last year only by drawing on stockpiles as 1943 production of 22,000,000,000 board feet fell 4,600,000,000 feet short of 1943 consumption.

There isn't any reserve to draw on this year, and every 1944 estimate of production vs. minimum requirements has the WPB lumber chiefs sending out for another family-size bottle of aspirin. The production deficit is expected to reach last year's 4,000,000,000-foot total.

Four billion board feet of lumber would build a grid 30 feet wide right around the world where this planet is hippest.

This plank load around the world wouldn't turn out last year's mountain of pulpwood, we aren't going to produce this year either. The official Canadian-American estimate of 44 pulpwood shortages is 6,500,000 cords.

In mean-something terms, 6,500,000 cords would make a mountain a city block square and five miles high.

The villain in this case of the missing timber is the man who wasn't there—absent manpower. Normally the lumber industry employs 460,000, but nowadays the bull cooks are setting only 360,000. They're also hunting 18,500 additional pulpwood cutters, but industry executives say it would fill up with loose ash, coke and be easier to find 18,500 pairs of nylon stockings, each with a quart of pre-war whisky in the toe.

Here Are Tips on How To Make Stoker Produce Clinkers in Mild Weather

Setting the ash to clinker. A lot of stokers are having trouble at the getting the ash to clinker in mild weather. A typical letter is that of Mr. L. H. of Indianapolis, Indiana.

"We are actually with the fire in the furnace functioning properly and the ash is well out to 75 degrees during the day and down to 50 at night, during the night." The ash is equipped with a modern furnace and a battery stoker, which we use a good-quality stoker coal. Instead of making into large clinkers, the ash accumulates and once in a while the fire has even gone out, apparently because the fire is not on long enough to clinker the ash. Should the ash be cleaned out and should all of it be taken out? How is the best way to do this, when some of the coal has formed into coke and is intermingled with loose ash or clinkers? The stoker is set at second speed and is feeding two minutes and 10 seconds every half hour.

In mild weather ash may be made to clinker by increasing the temperature in the furnace. This may be done by decreasing the coal feed, either by putting the coal feed on neutral, which is possible on most makes of stokers, or by removing the belt on other makes so that no coal is being fed. Then open the air feed approximately wide open so as to obtain an intensely hot fire. Operating the stoker in this manner for 20 minutes to a half hour will cause clinkers to be formed. These may be removed in the regular manner. It is not absolutely necessary to disengage the coal feed, particularly if it is on the lower range of the stoker capacity. A very hot fire will result in either case. The ash feed should be set back again as soon as the ash has clinkered. It is better to never take any loose ash out of the fire nor to take clinkers out until they are good sized. By allowing the fuelbed to fill up with loose ash, coke and small clinkers to a depth of about 10 inches there will be less trouble from coke trees and also

Building Quiz

Q: What size coal is recommended for a hot water heating system?

A: Many manufacturers recommend a specific size of coal for the various boilers they make. It would be wise to get their recommendations. Stoker coal is generally used in small house heating boilers. But if your draft is exceptionally strong, a smaller size coal might be preferred.

Q: I have a water softening unit in my basement, and because of constant sweating during the summer the outside of the tank is badly rusted. I intend to paint the tank with this new insulating paint but before doing this I would like to remove the rust. Should I use sandpaper or wirebrush to do a thorough job? Could you suggest a better way?

A: Your local auto supply store or repair man should have in stock one of the rust softening liquid compounds, which you can use. If you cannot obtain it, you can make a paste of a scouring powder and kerosene and put a thick layer of it over the badly rusted spots. After an hour or so, remove the paste and rub with coarse steel wool.

CRITICAL STAGE OF GAS EMERGENCY IS PAST

Serious Shortage to Continue Indefinitely

Milder weather has made possible easing some of the restrictions under which we have asked you to use gas during the emergency of the last few days. The situation continues to be so serious from the standpoint of the gas supply that it is hoped this message will not be taken as a signal to use gas on an unrestricted basis. For months we have advised our customers of the growing shortage.

This gas shortage continues and will become progressively more serious as the winter advances. The production of gas from the wells declines in proportion to the gas taken from them. In normal times we find opportunities to rest our wells—shutting some of them off to allow more gas to accumulate at the well. This practice permits taking greater than normal amounts of gas from the wells during short periods when peak demands are made upon us. In recent weeks there have been but few opportunities to shut off reserve wells to increase the volume that could be secured when demands were greater.

The War Production Board is making an effort to locate additional gas for us from other areas but such relief cannot be counted upon unless and until this gas is secured.

As winter advances emergency conditions may occur during increasingly mild weather. It is possible that it will be necessary to declare an emergency condition when average daily temperatures are only 20 degrees this month—perhaps as warm as 25 degrees next month. It is doubtful that we will be able to furnish normal supplies of gas at 35 degrees in March.

The problems of maintaining adequate pressures in distribution lines and preventing gas outages to our customers will be a serious threat in all emergencies. Every cubic foot of gas that you can save for the remainder of the winter will help lessen the frequency and severity of these occasions. To date this winter relatively few industries engaged in war work have been affected by the gas shortage. As more severe weather is experienced emergencies will arise which certainly will force curtailment of additional industries—many of them engaged in critical war work. Your continued efforts to save gas each day will hold these interruptions to a minimum.

The War Production Board and the War Department join us in expressing sincere appreciation for the fine cooperation you are giving in this critical situation.

HOG PRICES DROP AS SALES INCREASE

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Jan. 15.—Hog prices were lower today as the market was much more active and the first week of 1944 has shown a steady decline in prices.

The WFA announced the corn-hog ratio at Chicago as 11.5 to 1, compared with 13.7 to 1 for the same date last year.

The decline in the between-pork and loss in feeling even to be estimated at about 10 to 1, meaning the price of 100 pounds of live hogs is equal to the price of 10 bushels of the grain.

Strictly good and choice steers and heifers were the only classes and grades of cattle to reflect price improvement during the year. Feeder and stocker cattle have been moving into the feed belt area very slowly and at a cheap price, showing a lack of interest on the part of feeders to purchase stock to be fed.

Receipts of slaughter cattle this week were the largest since November. Price sheets brought the week's total of 517. The hog market was swamped again this week with supplies, and daily carloads were reported. The support price of $13.75 was top. All slaughter lambs were in demand and up 25 to 50 cents at the week's close. Good and choice fed westerns brought the extreme top of $15.70.
